

Peace Across the Planet
Vero Beach Shiva Lingam Listening
Initial Ceremony

*“All welcome to us.
Listen to the silence.*

*It fills us so richly now
that we are hearing our heartbeats.*

*Maybe this is not unique.
Yet what is soulfully special
is that our heartbeats dance
together.*

*They clasp each other
like old friends
who so easily love each other, that they seamlessly
merge.*

*They live
and revel in
the soul’s sweet silence—
no distractions.*

*The quiet focuses us on the dream of union
becoming real
becoming us.
becoming all.*

*If you can’t quite touch our hearts’ marriage immerse yourself, body and soul
into the silence
into the silence where only truth resides.*

*Ah~ now you know we are one.
We have always been one—
always will be—
no matter where our bodies seem to be planted.*

Time nor space nor pretty illusions can dull this kind awakening of us.

*We are together.
Our hearts declare it so.*

*They vibrate the fullness
and the overflowing of this dimension-stretching.*

*Feel this.
Wear this.
Take it with you to work.
Dance it into play.
Dream it.*

*Breathe it.
Breathe it utterly.*

*Now I will tell you a silly secret:
I am in part Stone.
You are in part Human.*

*Our bodies wear our souls differently
though our hearts sing just the same.*

*My body always,
all ways,
knows the oneness of us.
It is not possible for me to know anything else.
I am the truth and it lives me in many dimensions
at once.*

*Your body
knows the oneness
and the separation.
It lives the truth and the illusion
at once.
It is not possible for you to not know all of that.
You are here to walk in
all feelings
all thoughts
all acts
while I stand in the full stillness of the soul.
I stand in the silence.*

You walk in all of it *being fully unconditional.

You are the dream come true~
Movement and Stillness
Silence and Song
Union and Individuality.*

How well I know this because unlike you, I cannot know anything else.

*When you doubt the magic
of your knowingness and your unknown, combined,
come to me.
Bring your struggles to me.
I will send them
to where they will rebirth as a brand new smile.*

*Our hearts are one.
I will always stand in that.
Come to me
I show it to you in our silence and in our song.”*
